

PRIVACY POLICY

The protection of personal data when visiting <https://northsearegion.eu/> and our related mini-sites is important to us. Below you can find our privacy policy and how your personal data is handled on our website, blog and newsletter.

For the collection, processing and usage of personal data, the European data protection guidelines on data protection shall be prevailing.

1. Object of the Data Protection

The object of the data protection shall be personal data, i.e. all information which refers to an identified or identifiable natural person. This shall include, for example, data like name, postal address, e-mail address or telephone number, but also (where applicable) usage data such as your IP address or content data.

2. Logging actions

During each access by a user of one of the pages of our Internet site and each retrieval of a file, data shall be automatically stored in a log file. This log file may contain data with the following content:

- The IP address of the requesting computer.
- Name of the requested file.
- Date and time of day of the inquiry.
- Access methods/functions requested by the requesting computer.
- Access status of the web server (file transferred, file not found, command not executed, etc.) as well as the URL from which the file was requested/the requested function was affected.
- Operating system and browser model and/or browser settings.
- An analysis of these technical data shall be undertaken solely for statistical purposes (visitor numbers and webpage popularity) in order to improve our Internet site. These data also enable us to make no inferences regarding the natural person behind them.

3. Cookies

Please see our Cookie Policy available here: <https://bit.ly/2SbP6ab>

4. Rights of Information, Correction, Deletion, Portability, Revocation and Complaint

4.1 You shall have the right at any time to demand information from us regarding the data which we have stored about you as well as their origin, the recipients or categories of recipients to whom these data are disseminated and the purpose of the storage.

4.2 You shall have the right of correction of your personal data as well as, subject to the respective prerequisites in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation, the right of deletion or restriction of the processing of your personal data and/or you may object to the processing thereof, e.g. for reasons which are based upon your special situation.

4.3 You shall have the right of data portability, i.e. the right to receive your personal data, which you have provided to us, in a structured, standard and machine-readable format.

4.4 If you have granted your consent for the usage of the data, you may revoke this consent at any time.

4.5 You shall have the right at any time to submit a complaint to the competent government data protection agency in your country.

4.6 Please submit all information requests, data inquiries or objections to data processing via e mail to privacy@northsearegion.eu.

5. Automated Decision-Making

Automated decision-making shall not be utilised here.
